Maps in Chinese periodicals and newspapers

BACKGROUND

The Map Library systematically scans books, magazines, and newspapers for significant maps which can be added to the collection. Locating maps in Chinese published periodicals and newspapers is quite difficult and it is believed that FDD could assist in this project through the medium of their "Weekly Information Report on Communist China."

REQUIREMENT

That FDD either include the word "map" following the citation of the page number of summarized articles which contain maps, or that they include maps as part of the section on illustrations.
